This pair of four story houses is the more ornate on the block. The most distinguishing features are the 2 three-window oriels on the second floor and a mansard roof with fish-scale slate.

The attached building has a store front on the first floor on one side and a dwelling type facade on the other with rectangular two-over-one windows.

With running brick construction, this four bay unit is painted turquoise blue with splayed brick lintels and stone sills on the upper three floors.

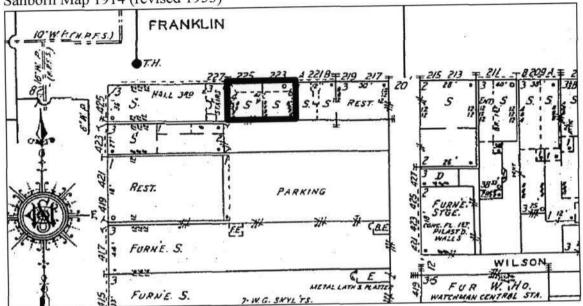

The front of the roof is mansard with four equally spaced dormers; the roof slants from front to back, being lower in the back. The four dormers are also an outstanding feature of the building; each dormer consists of a pair of casement windows surrounded by decorative wood. There is a flat arch of glass over each group of windows.

This structure has a cornice and there is a cornice-like treatment as part of each of the two bays on the second floor.
